

Jasmin Rubinovitz

+1 617 955 7160 | jasrub@gmail.com | www.cargocollective.com/jasrub

An artist and a software engineer. Interested in computer human interactions and the relations between our day to day life, art and design, and developed technology.

Education

September 2015 - current

Graduate student for Media Arts and Sciences at MIT Media Lab (Graduating June 2017)

2011-2014

Excellence program for design, modeling and computer science. A joint program of :
Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Jerusalem (Graduated BCS, GPA 90.5)
Bezalel Academy of Arts and Design , Jerusalem

Computer Skills:

Languages: java, C/C++, HTML, python, javascript, CSS

Operating Systems: Linux, Windows and Macintosh

Have experience with: Natural Language Understanding, Machine learning, Computer Graphics

Further Experience:

September 2015 - current

Research Assistant at the Viral Communications Group at MIT Media Lab.

2013 - 2015

Software engineer intern at Google TLV office.

Designed and developed different features and internal tools. Using varying programming languages and working on both server side and client side code.

2011-2014

Volunteer guide at "Education for Excellence" NGO. An organization focused on educating children from Israel's socio-economic and geographic periphery toward academic and personal excellence.

I was in charge of all art activities and workshops in the Jerusalem center and also taught english lessons.

2010 - 2011

Administrative staff member at "Paradise" – a leading Israeli skydiving club.

Worked at the sales department and customer service as well as managing the company's online marketing efforts and commercial Facebook page.

2007 - 2009

Served as a soldier in the IDF Israeli army as a developer of camouflage technologies.

2005- 2007

- Teacher assistant in art classes.

- Instructor for both children and adults in the ancient harbor of Caesarea. Led visits and interactive projects.

Professional Strengths:

- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Good interpersonal and team working relations
- Self-motivated, precise and dedicated
- Ability to achieve both short term and long term objectives
- Ability to handle multiple tasks and work under pressure
- Excellent technical skills
- High creativity, enthusiastic and spirit of responsibility

Hobbies and Interests:

Arts and crafts (drawing, sculpting and more), music, books, travelling, sports.